(BULLETIN 3 P. M.)

At three o'clock this afternoon John B. Shaw, county chairman of the Democratic party announced that V. I. Mandich, assistant cashier of the Bessemer Bank would be appointed county treasurer on Tuesday, to succeed Joseph H. Hartland, resigned.

It was also announced that John L. Holsinger would be the chief deputy. The appointment has not been made as yet but will be according to Mr. Shaw.

Early this afternoon no appointment of a treasurer for Lawrence County had been announced by Governor George H. Earle to succeed Joseph H. Hartland, resigned.

As a result the county is without a treasurer or a chief deputy. It is understood that the matter will be settled definitely this afternoon and an appointment is expected either late this afternoon or Tuesday morning.

Taxes are being received in the office of the county treasurer and receipts are being given but the money is being segregated and will be held until the new county treasurer can make disposition of them. No checks are being drawn but a few checks which had gone through before the stop order was issued have been countersigned by County Controller Frank W. Hill.

Bondsman Here
Today two representatives of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company arrived to protect the interests of this company which has the bond of former County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland.

The exact amount of the shortage is not known yet and nothing can be done in the way of a demand for restitution until the audit now under way is completed.

While no treasurer appointment is yet announced the question of his eligibility to succeed himself has already been raised.

Over the week-end quite a large number of curious spectators were at the scene of the miniature trolley that struck the vicinity of the Mt. Jackson road late Friday. One barn was completely blown down and seemed to be the focal point of interest.

Last night was bi-cultural service night for members of senior classes of several of the high schools in Lawrence county. The services were most impressive, and marked the start of the commencement season for numerous groups of young people. Several high school graduation programs will be given in the county during the week.

Another Good-Will Tour
To South America Now
Planned By President

By GEORGE BURNO

WASHINGTON, May 23. While war sparks snapped ominously over the wide open European tinderbox, President Roosevelt today was tentatively charting another good-will trip to South America designed to emphasize this government's insistence on strict observance of the Monroe doctrine.

May Start In July
Gravity of the domestic economic situation and uncertainty as to when congress will adjourn prevented the chief executive from definitely announcing the tour at the moment, but those who enjoy his confidence say he hopes to swing down the west coast of South America and touch at Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Chile. Barrington unforseen developments, the trip about one of the new navy cruisers, will start about mid-July from a California port.

A cruise of this nature would have a double-barreled purpose. In addition to promoting Pan-American relations, it would serve notice effectively on the Old World that the United States wants no interference in the affairs of the Western Hemisphere. Also, the departure from a west coast port would entail a transcontinental railroad swing that LONDON, May 23.—A bold British-French-Czech plan to brighten Adolf Hitler today was believed to have succeeded in averting any immediate danger of a German invasion of Czechoslovakia that would precipitate a general European war.

Quick and stern action by London, Paris, and Prague also paved the way for Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, with the approval of the British cabinet, to essay the role of peacemaker in Central Europe.

Ambassador Herbert von Dirksen, it was learned, told Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax that Germany has "no intention of using force" to settle the German minorities question in Czechoslovakia.

How the three-power plan to curb Reichsfuehrer Hitler was formulated and worked can be disclosed today.

When first reports of German troop movements reached Prague Thursday, an explanation was immediately sought from Berlin.

Assurances were received which were at first regarded as satisfactory. Prague, however, notified Paris

Roosevelt-Hull
Plan To Confer

Believe President And Secretary

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Concern over the international crisis was presumably the reason for a conference scheduled between President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull for 2:30 this afternoon.

Announcement of the conference was made by White House Secretary Stephen T. Early at his regular morning conference. He said the president and Hull "would go over the situation generally."

State department cables have been bringing in the story of developments in Europe as fast as diplomatic representatives of this country could send them, and Hull is being kept advised hourly of conditions.

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 23.—Three elder statesmen of the Republican party were under one hotel roof in New York today but there was no general reunion.

Former President Herbert Hoover made no attempt to reach Alfred M. Landon and Col. Frank B. Knox, nor did the 1936 Republican candidates for president and vice president, respectively, make any effort to reach him, although they chatted with each other.

Pure Coincidence

Presence of the three in the city at the same time was pure coincidence. Landon was returning from a New England fishing trip. Knox was in town to meet Mrs. Knox who was returning from Europe, and Hoover came to attend meetings of several corporations of which he is a member.

But while Landon and Knox met in the latter's suite for personal and political conversation, Hoover remained a complete elevator ride away and no meeting of the trio was contemplated.

Each was advised through the morning papers that the other was in town. Each was surprised but only the Chicago publisher and the former governor of Kansas got together.

Landon arriving at Knox's suite before nine a. m.

Asked if they intended to talk with Hoover before leaving the hotel—Knox to meet his wife and Landon to visit friends in Greenwich Conn., Knox said, "I didn't know Mr. Hoover was to be here and I really don't know anything to see him about," and Landon nodded confirmation.

No Plans For Meeting

Lawrence Richey, secretary to Hoover, said practically the same thing. "Mr. Hoover did not know they were to be here," he said, "he has no plans for meeting them."

The situation probably was the most peculiar to develop in Republican leadership in recent years. Hoover, recently returned to the

Hear Arguments

State Supreme Court Giving
Scrutiny To Controversial
Measure

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 23.—Pennsylvania's controversial 44-hour week law underwent the stern scrutiny of the state supreme court here today with Chief Justice John W. Kephardt asserting possible abuses of its arbitrary powers "condemns" the act.

The chief justice's comment came as the appellate jurists heard argument for the 1937 hours regulation act presented by Alexander H. Frey, University of Pennsylvania law professor, appearing for labor unionists who intervened in the case.

Justice Kephardt pointed out the act could be "so arbitrary" it could actually close an industrial or business establishment. As an example he cited an instance where one businessman might be permitted to work employees longer than 44 hours a week by the secretary of labor and industry, while another could not.

"It is the possible abuse of a power like this that condemns it," Kephardt declared.

Argument on the 44-hour law were taken up immediately after the court convened for the first day of its capital session without handling down any decisions. Still under consideration apparently was the court's ruling on whether or not to allow the projected Dauphin county grand jury investigation into charges of Democratic state administration corruption to be carried out.

New Crisis In Czechoslovakia Over Nazi Issue

Konrad Henlein, President Eduard Benes, Adolf Hitler; below, map of trouble zone.

President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia has ordered reinforcements to all border fortifications following development of a new crisis over the Nazi issue. Affairs came to a head when two German farmers living in the western section of Czechoslovakia were killed by Czech troops. It is in this sector that 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans live. Their spokesman Konrad Henlein has demanded complete autonomy and is believed to have "the backing of" Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler in seeking to join the German state. Outbreaks flared up at Eger where the two Germans were killed while attempting to cross a police blockade, and at other villages shown on above map. Meanwhile, Hitler and Henlein conferred at Munich on the situation.

LONDON, Ky., May 23.—The prologue was over and the curtain well up today on the first act of the court room drama staged to fix the blame for the bloody feud in Harlan county's coal fields.

The jury for the first criminal trial of the Wagner labor relations act was chosen to all practical purposes and with a brief oratorical warmup after the week-end layoff, the government planned to start its parade of 250 or more witnesses to the long fight between the coal operators and the United Mine Workers.

The sudden influx of hundreds of witnesses, investigators, guards and legal staffs has jolted this shaded little town in the foothills of the Cumberland out of its normal somnolence.

As the second week of the momentous trial started it had the bustling air of an industrial town, mingled with the carnival spirit of a football center at homecoming.

In less than a week the population has jumped from 2,000 to nearly 3,000 with shifting crowds that have made the trip to court an occasion for a holiday in addition to the numbers actually engaged in the trial.

A business boom of no mean proportions has been the result. Even the three well-equipped and modern hotels have been taxed to capacity and are still taking reservations far in advance. The shops and stores are crowded.

BERLIN, May 23.—Apparently convinced that the German-Czechoslovakian crisis has passed, for the present at least, German officials maintained an attitude of studied calm today while keeping a close eye on Prague to see what practical measures will be taken to relieve the Sudeten situation.

There was an almost strange absence of excitement in the Nazi press despite two potentially dangerous incidents. One was the crash of a Czechoslovakian military airplane while on a reconnaissance flight near the German frontier and the other an alleged attempt by Czech soldiers to cross the border near Benatska-Ladva.

The German government now takes the view that after the Czech municipal elections are finished on June 12, powers others than the Reich will be expected to interest themselves in persuading Prague

LONDON, May 23.—Both Germany and Czechoslovakia have assured Great Britain of their desire to see a peaceful solution of the Czechoslovakian minorities problem. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today.

Czechoslovakia in particular, he said, has promised to exert all its efforts to bring about a "just and equitable settlement." The premier revealed that Konrad Henlein, Sudeten leader, will confer with Premier Milan Hozda of Czechoslovakia tonight or tomorrow.

Questioned on the terms of Czechoslovakian reply to recent British representations, Chamberlain said: "Czechoslovakia welcomed the interest shown by the British and French governments in the question at issue and gave assurance of its intention to reach a just and equitable settlement."

Britain Seeks Peace

Answering another question, the prime minister reiterated that Britain is doing everything in its power to obtain further assurances from Germany of cooperation in an amicable settlement.

"The principal concern of his majesty's government," Chamberlain said, "has been to use all its influence wherever it could be effected on the side of restraint in word and deed while keeping the way open to peaceful negotiations for a satisfactory settlement."

"At the moment the situation appears somewhat eased."

His majesty's government, the premier continued, "represented to the German government the urgent importance of reaching a settlement if European peace is to be preserved and expressed an earnest desire that the German government cooperate in facilitating an agreement."

"Herr Ribbentrop (Joachim Von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister) stated he welcomed the efforts of his majesty's government, and that the German government fully shared the desire that negotiations should succeed."

It has been established, Chamberlain said, that Konrad Henlein, Sudeten German leader, will see Premier Milan Hozda of Czechoslovakia either tonight or tomorrow morning.

Chamberlain reviewed the events of the past few days. Recalling that rumors had caused currency last week that German troop movements in direction of the Czech frontier were under way, the German government informed British Ambassador Sir Neville Henderson, Chamberlain said, that the rumors were "completely unfounded."

Previous to the mishap here, the air transport made several stops enroute from Texas including landings at Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Md.

ANOTHER GOOD-WILL TOUR IS PLANNED BY PRESIDENT

To Speak At Marietta

Mr. Roosevelt has an engagement to speak at Marietta, O., on July 8 in connection with the anniversary celebration of the opening of the northwest territory. If plans work out, it was believed likely the president would continue west at that time. He has promised Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley to make a speech in Paducah, Ky., in furtherance of Barkley's reelection campaign against Governor A. D. "Happy" Chandler, which probably will be incorporated in the Marietta itinerary, and Senator Elmer Thomas expects the president to visit Oklahoma "some time this summer" on his way to Fort Worth, Texas, to visit second son Elliott. In California, Senator William Gibbs McAdoo is up for re-election and facing a primary fight. McAdoo already has Mr. Roosevelt's public endorsement.

Proposed Route

Marks on the White House atlas indicated that the president would touch first at Bogota, Colombia, and then proceed to Guayaquil, Ecuador.

Next "good neighbor" call would be at Callao, the port for Lima, Peru, and the end of the long cruise would be at Valparaiso, port for Santiago, Chile.

Mixing pleasure with business, Mr. Roosevelt would be enabled to get in a bit of deep sea fishing. Several years ago, he had luck off Cocos Island, and he has told friends he would like to fish around the Galapagos group, located on the equator.

Going or returning, it was possible he would try his favorite sport off the Mexican coast, but whether any landing would be made in Mexico was problematical in view of troubled conditions in that neighboring republic.

and London of further developments, and the three nations decided to take advantage of the opportunity to make it unmistakably plain to Hitler that a German invasion would likely lead to a European war—in which Germany would find France, Britain and Russia lined up against her.

According to the Evening Standard's diplomatic correspondent, Poland also told Germany Saturday that if France and Britain went to the aid of Czechoslovakia in an invasion, Poland would have to join them.

Czechoslovakia immediately began precautionary military defensive measures, and Britain and France commenced intense diplomatic activity in Berlin.

Summoning of the British cabinet for a rare Sunday meeting, and immediate preparations of the British embassy to send British women and children home from Berlin were part of the plan to impress Hitler that British as well as France would likely act if Czechoslovakia were invaded.

SEEK PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT OF CZECH SITUATION

With Czechoslovakia breathing much easier, highest official quarters said on behalf of the president: "The independence of the Republic has been saved, at least for the time being—thanks to the brilliant impression Czech military measures made, plus the reiterated assurances that France and Russia would furnish assistance in the event of aggression."

"The government will continue its policy of fostering a nationality state, which will be submitted to Konrad Henlein (leader of the Sudeten Germans) when he returns from Germany."

Partial Self Rule

The proposed statute would give partial self-rule to the Sudetens, but so far Henlein has been uncompromising in his demands for full autonomy.

Henlein, it was understood, will confer with Premier Milan Hodza early this week.

Greater nationalistic solidarity by the Czechs on one hand and the Germans on the other was shown today in municipal election returns, leaving the two opposing elements more clearly delineated in their bitter struggle.

While the Sudeten German party of Konrad Henlein increased its votes and held a clear majority in the Germanic districts of Czechoslovakia, the actual German voting strength was not materially changed.

The total was about the same as that obtained in the last previous poll by the Sudetens and the two smaller German activist parties now combined with Sudetens.

Quickly demanding that conditions at the frontiers be returned to normal, representatives of the Sudetens met with Premier Milan Hodza today.

Hodza, a Sudeten spokesman said, was not content, saying "better" and "worse" conditions could be reestablished "in a few days." But the premier refused to pledge any troop withdrawals.

Results Of Voting

In Prague and other large Czech cities, gains of 15 to 20 per cent were shown by the Czech National Socialist party, the centerist group formerly headed by President Edouard Benes. Counting returns from Czech villages, the former Benes party advanced by 30 per cent.

The voting, watched with trepidation by all the world, was orderly. But not one of the 400,000 to 500,000 soldiers placed by defiant little Czechoslovakia along the German borders and throughout the Sudeten areas was recalled.

The Sudetens, according to the latest count, won an absolute majority in 45 towns out of 1500 municipalities which voted yesterday. Further elections are to be held next Sunday.

For the first time, also, the Henlein faction will be represented on the Prague municipal council, with three members.

The communists also showed slight gains. The extreme Rightist groups, like the anti-Semitic Strahovka league, were decisively defeated.

The next step, it was believed, will be another attempt by Premier Milan Hodza to persuade the Sudetens to negotiate, and modify some of their demands. Twice over the week end, however, the Henlein party refused to negotiate "until a situation is created which will make possible a real permanent solution."

Henlein is still on holiday in Germany, but he is expected back early this week.

The Czechs' firm action in manning their frontier, plus British appeals to Germany for restraint, were credited today with carrying Europe safely through one of its most perilous crises in years.

Foreign Minister Krofta received the outstanding members of the diplomatic corps, and assured them that Czechoslovakia would do all in her power to keep the peace.

ready arisen. Whoever is appointed will hold the job until January 1940, a period of about 18 months.

County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr., was asked his opinion as to the eligibility of the appointee to succeed himself to a four year term. He replied that until he had been asked by the county commissioners for such an opinion he would not give one. He did point to the fact that when County Treasurer Louis De Normandie was appointed to the place and then was elected for a full term, a decision in this was given by the late Attorney S. W. Dana and D. B. Kurtz. The law says a county treasurer cannot succeed himself but it is thought that this applies only to elected officials.

Although conceding their lack of numbers, southern members promised to make the fight of their lives to obtain differentials or kill the bill. Crowd Attends Union Service Sunday Evening

Many Denominations Join In Aldersgate Service At First Presbyterian

In celebration of the 200th anniversary of John Wesley's "Aldersgate Street Experience," the church people of New Castle gathered for a community service in the First Presbyterian church on North Jefferson street.

Dr. John J. McIlwaine, the pastor, presided. The music was furnished by the First Presbyterian quartet. The sermon, very appropriate for the occasion, was delivered by the president of Westminster college, Dr. R. F. Galbreath.

Although the anniversary is particularly sacred to Methodists, for John Wesley was the father of the Methodist Episcopal church, all denominations joined in the service sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial Association. John Wesley's name is held in reverence by Protestants the world over.

The large First Presbyterian church was filled for the service. On the cover of the church bulletin was printed this interesting paragraph, Wesley's own account of his Aldersgate experience as written in his journal:

Wednesday, May 24, 1738.—In the evening I went very unwillingly to a society in Aldersgate street, where one was reading Luther's preface to the Epistle to the Romans. About a quarter before nine, while he was describing the change which God works in the heart through faith in Christ, I felt my heart strangely warmed. I felt I did trust in Christ, Christ alone for salvation; and an assurance was given me, that he had taken away my sins, even mine, and saved me from the law of sin and death.

Yet when chance provided an opportunity for them to meet, both elaborately avoided it.

"The tactics of the administration forces in Pennsylvania were rather blundering," said London. "Even Gov. Eagle repudiated the administration endorsement. The new deal can't laugh off the tremendous Republican vote."

Knox chimed in "and did you notice the Republican majorities in the congressional districts? If as many votes are cast in the election as were in the primaries—and there is no reason to think there isn't—looks as though Pennsylvania will have an all-Republican congress."

that the demands of Konrad Henlein, Sudeten leader, must be met in order to forestall a new crisis.

The German press is now stressing the peaceful and orderly discipline shown by the Sudetens in yesterday's elections.

However, reports that Germany has assured Prague that no warlike action will be taken in support of Henlein's demands were rejected as unfounded. It was considered likely that if Czechoslovakia does not satisfy the Sudetens, Germany may embark upon an economic boycott to strangle Czech trade.

WRECKERS

Wreckers are those people who tear down what other people have built up. There are wreckers who tear down old houses, old buildings, old smoke stacks, old factories and many other things which make an improvement to the country and community. Then, there are wreckers who make a business of tearing down people's characters, churches, organizations, communities, and even great countries.

Jameson Hospital Officials Have Annual Meeting And Tea

Delightfully informal was the annual meeting of officers and executive board members of the Jameson Memorial hospital, which took place Saturday in the home of Mrs. Alex Crawford Hoyt on Winter avenue. The occasion was in the form of a social and a business meeting combined, with election of officers featuring.

On this occasion, it was unanimously voted to publicly thank the various sewing groups who have so willingly and successfully aided in the completing of garments and needed articles at the Jameson Memorial hospital, from time to time, during the past year. Included in the group are the following: Epworth Guild of Epworth M. E. church; physicians wives; the Reading Club; Reading Circle of 91; the Women's club Kings Daughters of the Methodist Episcopal church; Hershey Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church; National Council of Jewish Women; Section 1 of the First Christian church, and the Baldwin Bible class of the Highland United Presbyterian church.

Retiring officers, who have served efficiently in their respective capacities, included: Mrs. Alex Crawford Hoyt, president; Mrs. James D. Crawford, first vice; Mrs. Frank Douds, second vice; Mrs. D. C. Lindley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clyde Gillilan, recording secretary; Miss Jennie Morgan, treasurer; Mrs. Reed McGinn, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Robert Garland, chairman of the nursing and Mrs. Cassius Ralph as chairman of the culture. The sewing groups were in charge of Mrs. Robert White.

Those officers elected to serve during the new term for Jameson Memorial hospital are: Mrs. Felix Shoaff, president; Mrs. Alex Crawford Hoyt, first vice; Mrs. James D. Crawford, second vice; Mrs. D. C. Lindley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold Gordon, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Hodd, treasurer; Miss Jennie Morgan, assistant treasurer.

After an informal discussion of reports and other items of interest, the hostess served tea and daily refreshments from a beautifully appointed table. The Spring motif was much in evidence, and a cluster of Spring flowers formed the centerpiece. Bouquets of the same were effectively used throughout the room. Pouring was Mrs. John Piper Byers.

A schedule is being worked out for sewing sessions to continue, for the aid of the local hospital, the meetings to be held on Wednesdays. The dates of the meetings will be announced, and the hostess groups will be made a few days in advance. The officers extend a standing invitation to all women interested to attend the meetings and participate in the sewing on the dates announced.

Wesley Service At Castle View

Program To Be Presented Tuesday Night Under Sponsorship Of Methodist Ministers

Commemorating the 200th anniversary of the spiritual birthday of John Wesley, a musical anniversary service will be presented in Castle View Burial Park on Tuesday evening at 6:30 under the auspices and sponsorship of the Methodist Episcopal ministers of Lawrence county.

Two hundred years ago in Aldersgate, England, John Wesley had his "heart warming experience." As the result of his complete conversion the Wesley revival swept England. His followers agree that this revival saved England and probably saved all of Europe from disaster.

The service will start at 6:30 o'clock with the Norman Singing Tower being used. Because of the important part music played in the life and career of John Wesley and his brother Charles, the service will be almost entirely musical.

The program follows: Director of music—Joseph F. Replogle. 6:30 p. m.—Opening chimes. Invocation—Rev. J. Edwards, pastor, New Wilmington M. E. church. "Love Divine, All Love Excelling" (Charles Wesley).

The Origin of the Hymn—Rev. H. A. McCurdy, pastor, Epworth M. E. church. Singing of the hymn—Quartet: Mrs. H. A. Mellor, Helen Urmon, Fern W. W. Campbell, Monas Harlan.

Scripture reading—Rev. W. V. McLean, pastor, First M. E. church. "Where Shall My Wondering Soul Begin" (Charles Wesley).

The story of the hymn—Rev. H. A. McCurdy. Singing of the hymn—The quartet: "Jesus, Thy Bounties Love to Me" (John Wesley).

The story of the hymn—Rev. J. B. Edwards. Singing of the hymn—The quartet: "Ode of the Deep Have I Called Unto Thee" (Charles Wesley).

The story of the hymn—J. F. Replogle. Solo—John Casady. "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" (Charles Wesley).

Story of the hymn—Rev. W. V. McLean. "Oh For a Thousand Tongues To Sing" (Charles Wesley).

Singing of the hymn by the congregation, led by the quartet. Benediction—Dr. T. E. Colley, superintendent of Grove City district. Closing chimes.

First U. P. Church Memorials May 29

Two memorial services, one the annual service for the entire congregation, will be held in the First U. P. church, Glenmore boulevard, Sunday morning, May 29.

Before the congregation pays its annual tribute to departed members in the regular 11 o'clock service, the John P. Lockhart Bible class will conduct a special memorial in honor of their late founder and teacher, for whom their class was named. The Lockhart service will be held in the church auditorium at 9:45.

Construction has been started on "Amelia Earhart Lighthouse" on Howland Island in the Pacific.

Plans are in complete readiness for the State Nurses Association meeting, which will take place Wednesday, May 25, in the Y. W. C. A. building, at 11 o'clock, to which nurses and the public are invited to attend.

At this annual, noted medical authorities will be heard, who will give enlightening addresses on tuberculosis, in an effort to stamp out the rising death rate, in the state of Pennsylvania.

Sessions will begin at 9:30 o'clock, when Madeline Kemp, R. N., representative of District 6, will extend greetings. At 9:45, Dr. Harold T. Brown of the Tuberculosis League head of Pittsburgh; at 12 o'clock, luncheon will be served to which all are invited. Those planning to attend this feature will make their reservations known to Miss Della Glenn, room 219 in the Lawrence Savings and Trust Building by noon Tuesday, Dr. J. C. B. Domett, president of Lawrence County Medical Society will preside over the luncheon.

Outstanding, will be the address to be given by Dr. C. Harold Marey, M. D., of Pittsburgh, his talk also dealing with tuberculosis.

Mrs. Charles A. Crowl, of this city will contribute to the entertainment two vocal selections, with Kathryn Nesbitt Allen, accompanist.

At 2 o'clock, there will be an address especially for nurses as well as the public. This will be given by Miss Alice E. Stewart, R. N. also of the Pittsburgh Tuberculosis League.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the public schools has given his permission for health teachers of the local schools, to attend this meeting, which will be outstanding and a "leader" educationally along many lines, in an effort to the combat of tuberculosis, thus making known the symptoms to be on the alert for in students and giving them the proper treatment at the early stage.

Many nurses' reservations have been called in from the nine counties, which comprise the sixth district.

a radical government in its fiscal management and control.

OTHER MEASURES

Nor is government departmental reorganization dead. In fact, it cannot be—the administration departments have become too cumbersome. Furthermore, nobody will be able to chop out the dead wood unless somebody has supreme authority. Congress never will cut off jobs.

If President Roosevelt would put forth his plan, placement, or permit congress to originate it, reorganization would go through. Congress simply does not like the Roosevelt method of springing "must" measures abruptly, and putting through changes, when he has the power, impulsively.

Then, too, one must not consider the supreme court "reform" plan dead. Labor is against the court's nullification of measures that congress has passed—at least, with a mere majority. And the most recent decision against the New Deal also was against the farmers. Thus, there may be some reaction from organized farmers the next time, as well as from labor.

Much has been said concerning Justice Black's recent dissenting decisions—that they are not phrased in legal lore. Possibly not, but they are written in language that the ordinary man understands. And, it is Justice Black continues to make such dissenting decisions, he will become the most important factor on the high bench, so far as the average man is concerned.

The term "lame duck" as applied to a politician, means one, especially, a member of the legislature, who has been defeated for re-election, and whose term of office has not expired.

Star Witness In Spy Probe Is Let Loose

(Copyright 1938)

BERLIN, May 22.—(Associated Press.)—A star witness in the New York spy investigation who slipped into Germany as a stowaway aboard the liner Bremen is now being held by the International News Service.

Contrary to predictions by the official German news agency that he would be kept in prison for several months and then deported, Dr. Griebel escaped heavy punishment. Taken into custody when he was found aboard the Bremen on arrival of that liner at the port of the same name last week, Griebel was taken to the Bremerhaven magistracy court and confronted with charges of violation of passport regulations.

He was given the choice of paying 60 marks ($24) for speeding 12 days in jail. He paid the fine immediately and was turned back into the hands of the secret police who had arrested him.

After brief formalities, Griebel then was surrendered back to the Bremen harbor police for release.

It was regarded as a toss-up whether Griebel would vanish again or whether American authorities here would take steps to hold him until extradition proceedings can be lodged. Griebel is a naturalized American citizen.

Candidates before the board of county assessors which was vacated on Saturday. Republicans and Democrats alike are anxious to assume the responsibility and already there have been many claims put forth to Harrisburg for the appointment of various men.
The appointment will be made by Governor George H. Earle and will probably be a Democrat. Among possible appointees are heard the names of William R. Hanna, Philip Shaw, Tad E. Sholes and others. The appointment will likely be made within a short time as it is necessary to have a treasurer before taxes can be paid.
It is still a ways from people time for the annual county house party. It is being held on Monday, when a party will be held at the county house, but most of the folks are willing.

"A TRIFLING STUNT"

Amoy also is within easy ferrying distance from the Japanese insular stronghold of Formosa.

It was a trifling stunt for a fleet of the mikado's transports to cross the strait and grab the city. A few hundred men were enough to hold the island against night there.

But let a substantial number of hundreds of thousands of them to attempt to penetrate to the eastward beyond the city wall!

Millions of embattled Chinese are waiting to oppose them.

Report 250,000 Chinese Troops Have Escaped Japanese Net

Japanese Claim 40,000 Captured

Japan Now Concentrating For Offensive Aimed At Taking Hankow

CHINESE REFORM FOR FRESH STAND

(International News Service) SHANGHAI, May 23.—A quarter of a million Chinese troops, trapped and broken up into relatively small bands by the Japanese drive in the Szechwan area, have escaped the net, according to official Chinese reports at Hankow today.

Instead of meeting with the annihilation planned for them by the Japanese, the Chinese crossed the Tientsin-Pukow railroad and rejoined the remainder of the army.

West of Suifu, the Chinese are now re-forming for a fresh stand.

Report 40,000 Captured Japanese accounts, however, said some 40,000 Chinese were taken prisoner during the recent fighting which resulted in Japan's capture of Szechwan and cutting of the Lung-hai railroad at several points.

Japan is now concentrating on a grand offensive aimed at taking Hankow, the provisional capital of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Without losing any momentum in their drive, the Nipponese have crossed the Yellow river and then Chaochang on the Lunghai railroad west of Lanfeng. An estimated 100,000 Chinese troops were retreating before them.

Swinging far around to the right, however, another Chinese column asserted it cut through the Japanese line east of Suifu.

Approximately 500 persons assembled in King Humbert hall, Division street, Sunday evening, at a banquet honoring Vice Consul Dr. Bombassei Frascani and Secretary Dr. Nino Calabro, both of Pittsburgh. High Geared

BLUE SUNOCO

MOTOR FUEL

WINS GIANT POLL

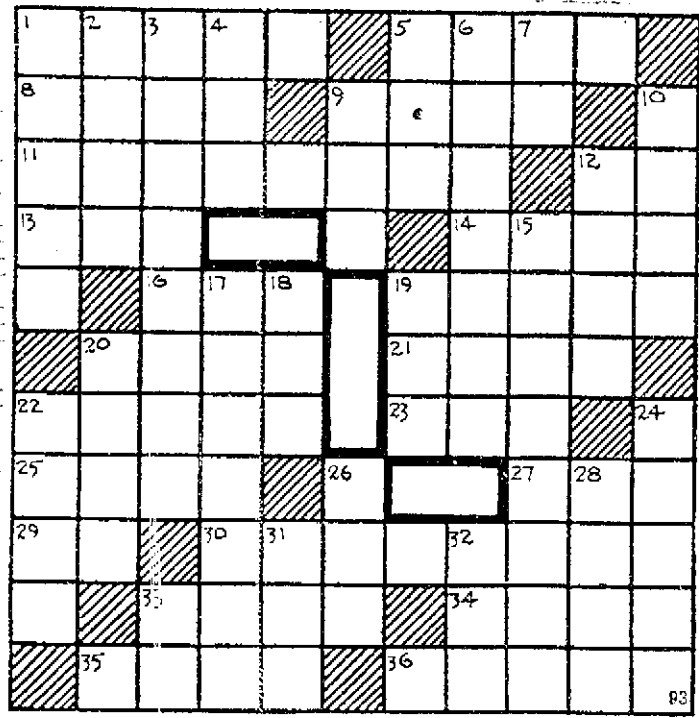

24,744 new car owners in 140 cities were asked to name their favorite gasoline. Blue Sunoco ranked an outstanding first!

It's high geared to give quick starting... fast acceleration... power on hills... high knockless power... long mileage

These experienced drivers ranked Blue Sunoco first by 57.5% more votes than the next highest on the list. MANY OF THESE GASOLINES WERE WELL-KNOWN PREMIUM-PRICED FUELS. Since new cars require a better gasoline to perform satisfactorily, obviously such a gasoline will surely perform as well or possibly better in older cars.

Make your Memorial Day trip on high geared, quick acting Blue Sunoco. Note its economical mileage, too.

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., May 23—With nearly 500 persons viewing the ceremony, the cornerstone of the new St. Peter's church here was laid Sunday afternoon. Dignitaries from the Catholic churches in Pittsburgh, Butler, Herman, Mercer and Grove City were present, and music was furnished by the St. Fidelis Seminary band of Herman, near Butler.

Following the vesting of the clergy, the Reverend Father Patrick Collins, dean of Butler county priests, presided at the cornerstone laying. Father Clifford of Martinsville made a stirring address on "The Religion of the Church to Society." Other churchmen present were: Fathers Carol Marion, Linus, Benno, Simon and Gabriel from Herman, Father Adrian from Hays, Kan., Father Quirk from Grove City, Father O'Mahoney of Mercer and Father Gerald of North Oakland.

POULTRY MEETINGS TO BE HELD

H. H. Kaufman, poultry specialist from State College will attend two Poultry Meetings to be held in Lawrence County Tuesday, May 24.

Mr. Kaufman will discuss poultry management problems including feeding of the old flock and the growing of the young flock.

All poultrymen are invited to attend the meetings. The first meeting will be held at the farm of Harry Zimmerman and Mr. Hope Wayne Township Tuesday at 1:00 o'clock. A new two-story poultry house is being constructed on the farm at the present time and an opportunity will be given to inspect this new building.

The second meeting will be held at the farm of J. W. Cox and Son, Washington Township, Tuesday at 7:00 p. m.

PREPARE SUPPLEMENTAL PASTURES THIS MONTH

Spring is the time to prepare for mid-summer pasture. Such preparation may save feeding expensive grain and avoid a drop in production of milk cows.

Many pastures go on a vacation during the hot, dry weather of July and August. They produce little feed and heavy pasturing then may result in less grass in the fall or following spring.

That the regular pasture may be given a chance to recuperate, many farmers pasture the second crop of hay. Chief objections to this plan, however, are that it often requires considerable fencing; second crop clover is almost as good as alfalfa; and home-grown clover seed usually brings an attractive price. Later cuttings of alfalfa makes the best hay, are easily cured and are often needed for winter feed.

Another possibility for relieving the permanent pasture, is to seed a crop for cutting and feeding green. Being high in protein, soybeans are best.

The farmer who has silage for summer feeding is fortunate. Last year a number of silage silos or clover with milasses. More plan to this year.

Sudan grass will carry two or three cows per acre from about July 15 until killed by frost. Seed is cheap. Sow at the rate of 40 pounds per acre between May 15 and June 1 on fertile, well-prepared ground.

In six to eight weeks the grass will be about 18 inches high and ready to pasture. Cattle eat it readily.

Sudan grass should not be pastured after frost-killed because of the danger of poison.

Some farmers sow Sudan grass on cornstalk ground, following it with rye. Rye furnishes early pasture the following spring; saving the permanent pasture until it is in best shape for grazing. Later, the rye ground is again seeded to Sudan grass.

CARE IN TRANSPLANTING HELPS INSURE SUCCESS
Transplanting garden vegetables is more than a simple procedure, but it need not set the plants back. The use of strong, well-rooted, healthy plants are recommended. Depth of setting is determined by the length of stem. Stemless plants are celery and lettuce do best when set about the same as they stood in the seedbed, and tomatoes require planting one to several inches deeper than they were in the plant bed.

Contrary to the common practice of making a round, deep hole with a dibble or pointed stick, it is preferable to use a hoe or trowel. A well-grown plant has a fibrous root system and requires plenty of space. A hole made at the top, as deep as necessary and with loose dirt at the bottom is desirable.

Set the plants in the hole, draw a little dirt around the root and firm with the fingers. Then water, using a pint to a quart, to settle the ground and close air spaces. Incidentally, it is the air spaces under plants set in holes made with a stick which causes them to wilt. After the water disappears, finish filling the holes with loose soil. Properly set plants require no protection from the sun. Pouring water around the top of a plant after planting will result in formation of a crust and rapid evaporation which is detrimental.

MAKE FLOORS LIKE NEW WITH VARNISH OR PAINT

Bright, clean and sparkling floors are an asset to any house, for they make it cheerful as well as easy to clean. Just like walls and furnishings, floors show wear from day to day. In a few months of indoor living, Spring is a good time to redecorate and bring the floors up to par.

Varnished floors which are slightly worn may be restored by rubbing the scratches with a cloth dampened with linseed oil, says Miss Mary Vogle, home economics extension representative of Lawrence County. Sanding the floors or brushing them with a fresh coat of varnish will make them like new.

Floors which are worn bare in spots or badly stained with dirt and heel marks require a more thorough treatment. Miss Vogle suggests washing, scrubbing or sanding them, and bleaching with oxalic acid. One or more coats of orange shellac may be necessary to match the general color of the floors.

It is advisable to remove all varnish from badly worn floors with varnish remover. A thorough scrubbing with water, to which soap and a small amount of sal soda or washing powder has been added is essential. Steel wool No. 2 or 3 may be used to loosen the dirt. After washing, wipe with water and wipe the floors as dry as possible with clean clothes or a sponge. After sanding, wipe up the dust and the surface is ready to varnish. A stain applied before varnishing makes a more harmonious background color for most rooms.

Waxed floors that are soiled may be cleaned by rubbing with a cloth saturated with turpentine. If necessary, the old coating of wax and dirt may be removed with No. 1 steel wool dipped in turpentine.

Floors which have been painted may be renewed with fresh paint. When entirely dry, a coat of equal parts of turpentine and linseed oil will give a luster and make the paint last longer. Apply the oil with a soft cloth and polish with a woolen cloth.

Although not so desirable as some finishes, paint gives a surface easy to clean and affords an opportunity to work out pleasing color harmonies.

1939 STRAWBERRY CROP DEPENDS ON CARE NOW

The size and quality of the 1939 strawberry crop will depend largely upon the care given new plantings this season.

Early runner plants are most productive. One thing that the grower can do at this season to encourage these is to insure an adequate supply of nitrogen. Most plantings will profit by a side dressing of nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia applied about four weeks after planting.

An application of 125 to 150 pounds per acre is suggested. The fertilizer may be applied by hand in 10-inch circles around individual plants or beside the row with a fertilizer distributor, taking care that none of the material comes in direct contact with the plant as burning may result.

Weeds and strawberries cannot be successfully grown together. Cultivation should be thorough and frequent, but not deep. Prevent a crust from forming on the soil as it will delay rooting of runners. The surface should be kept as even as possible. Mounding around plants is not desirable.

Strawberry culture is more completely discussed in Circular 181, available at the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle, Pa.

PASTURE GROWING HOGS FOR PROFITABLE GAINS

Although pasture is the cheapest feed for swine and one of the most profitable field crops, most Lawrence County farmers fail to take advantage of it. Pasture demonstrations conducted by 400 Pennsylvania farmers show a saving of 133 pounds of grain per 100 pounds of pork produced compared with hogs fed in a dry lot. For hogs marketed at 200 pounds, this would mean a saving of five dollars per head. As the average hog pasture will carry 20 to 30 animals per acre, the return would be approximately $100, per acre.

Medium red clover, alfalfa, and dwarf Essex rape are recommended for Pennsylvania hog pastures. Now is the time to plant rape. Sow eight pounds of seed per acre on reasonably fertile soil. Normally it will be ready to pasture in six weeks or when the plants are four inches high. A second planting early in July will provide pasture for late summer and until cold kills the crop.

White hogs have a tendency to sun scald when on rape, and where practical, they should not be turned out to pasture until the dew is off the plants.

SUGGESTS DOOR CHANGES

Do you have a closet door that collides with other doors or furniture in a room? A sliding door that pushes back along the wall will save much banging and marring of woodwork, according to home economics extension specialists at the Pennsylvania State College. A slatted door that pushes up over the top of the doorway like the lid of a roll-top desk is another way to eliminate too many swinging doors.

Story Of Steel Making Will Be Shown At Penn

Color Pictures To Be Seen At Local Theatre On Tuesday And Wednesday

"Steel, Man's Servant," an industrial educational short-feature picture, filmed by the same type of cameras making Hollywood's "super colossal" color epics, will be shown at the Penn Theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 23 and 24. Manager M. D. Cohn, announced today.

The story of steelmaking, from ore mining to transportation to steel processing, is fully told in the picture. The blending natural hues of open-pit ore mines, of lake water and sky are faithfully portrayed. Flashing reds and yellow issue from Bessemer converters or Blaine open-hearth churning floors. Soaking pits radiate yellow whites, while rows of newly shaped ingots impart bright orange-reds. Augmenting these highlights are shots of lake boats, railroads, electric shovels and many other types of equipment in operation. Every effort has been made to present steelmaking realistically.

Edwin C. Hill, famous newspaperman and one of the country's foremost radio commentators, graphically describes each step. The picture was filmed on 20 United States properties which were visited during the 10 week itinerary. Many of the scenes were filmed in Pittsburgh, Homestead and McKeesport. The presentation is a true, genuine film depicting the making of steel. The movement used in filming the picture was the one which made "A Star is Born" and "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

The feature picture at the Penn Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday will be "Hold That Kiss" starring Maureen O'Sullivan, Dennis O'Keefe and Mickey Rooney.

Finds Wild Life On Plant Site At West Pittsburg

Charles Gettings, forester for the Pennsylvania & Ohio Electric company, while clearing out a right-of-way for the new Pennsylvania Power plant at West Pittsburg, found an encouraging amount of wild life around the location of the plant, such as pheasants, quail, grouse and deer.

No doubt the thick growth of underbrush has not been frequented much by the public, therefore making an ideal place for wild life.

While working in this location, Mr. Gettings states that he saw quite a number of baby pheasants. He also stated that the wild deer in this location gave him quite a thrill as he watched them bounding along in their wild freedom.

Miss Alice Sterling Tells Possibilities Found In Local Public Library

A magic carpet of travel will unfold before many vacationists within the next few months. The public library suggests that reading about the places before one starts on the journey will double the intelligence with which one views the sights of cities and countries and triple the pleasure.

Do not say you cannot afford to travel, said Miss Alice Sterling, public librarian, for William M. Strong's "How To Travel Without Being Rich" will show you that it can be done.

Helene Dean Fish advocates Europe in her "Invitation To Travel." Miss Sterling states that of the many books on going places here are just a few. If your magic carpet lies in a different section, ask the library for a book on the place you would like to visit.
